Oskar little – the little economist!

Ecological filter-material made from plant- and textile-fibre

Easy refillable during operation

With fragrance dispenser

Natural humidification through evaporation technology, up to 200 g per hour

Just like his big brothers, Oskar little is also a thrifty consumer with great power. With his two power levels, this evaporative humidifier performs at his best in small rooms up to 30m². His eco-friendly filter made of plant and textile fibres truly distinguishes him as an economist. Thanks to his dimmable LEDs, extremely quiet manner and gentle distribution of essential oils, he makes a particularly healthy bedroom companion. And because he comes from the same family, he automatically switches off when his water tank is empty but can easily be refilled through the convenient filling opening.
